

Vanshika Sharma

Professional Title

A motivated and diligent Computer Science student pursuing a B.Tech with a passion for building scalable and user-centric applications. Experienced in software design, development, and algorithmic problem-solving, with proficiency in Java, C++, and object-oriented programming. Adept at working with data structures and algorithms, I am eager to contribute to real-world projects that drive impact at scale. Excited to grow as a Software Engineering Intern at LinkedIn, where I can collaborate with industry-leading talent and develop high-quality solutions for web and mobile platforms.
